

November 2010 Retreat Mystery - Introduction

This project is half scrappy and half not, so everyone should enjoy it. You want stark contrast between your colors, but can use mediums in your blends as long as they contrast with your main color. Your main color can be a light or a dark, and is the non-scrappy part of this mystery. Your background is totally scrappy. You can use a light main and a dark background or vice versa, both work nicely.

(Note, this could be done totally scrappy, but for a truly striking... in my opinion... you want your main color to be all the same. If you like the pattern, you can go totally scrappy on your own later.)

We will be making 12 inch finished blocks with this project, although as you will see later, you could easily make it smaller if you would like. (I will add extra measurements at the end for you to use if you want)

Remember, we will only be making a lap quilt for the retreat, but you can easily add on to it later if you want.
